The Master of Buddhist Studies programme offers quality teachings on the fundamental understanding and in-depth analysis of Buddhism from the textual, doctrinal and historical perspectives. It further aims to provide training in the practical usage of the Buddhist teachings in modern societies, and offers a critical review of Buddhism in Hong Kong, Mainland China and the region. Topics include history and doctrines of the different Buddhist traditions, contemporary Buddhism, and Buddhism as applied in counselling, palliative care and psychotherapy, with particular reference to current scholarly research. The programme also serves as an excellent basis for candidates planning to obtain research degrees in the field.

The curriculum shall normally extend over one academic year of full-time study or two academic years of part-time study (including evening and weekend sessions). Scholarships are available for application. Detailed information on the curriculum and scholarships are available from the website of the Centre of Buddhist Studies at http://www.buddhism.hku.hk/.

Concurrent studies

10. General Regulation G6(b)(i) prohibits concurrent registration by a student of this University for any other post-secondary qualification either at this University or at any educational institution, unless approval of the Senate has been obtained in advance. If any student fails to register in time, the offer of admission may be withdrawn and all fees already paid may not be refunded.

Students with dependant visa, IANG (Immigration Arrangements for Non-local Graduates) visa and work visa are also considered as local students.
